ELL

WHAT IS ELL?

ELL means English Language Learner. IMG Academy offers special ELL programming and support for student-athletes who are still learning English.

HOW ARE STUDENT-ATHLETES PLACED INTO ELL CLASSES?

There are 2 steps to the process for new student-athletes:

1. Part of the application process for international, non-native English-speaking students is to give evidence of English ability with a standardized test. Based on the score, the likelihood of the need for ELL is determined.
2. New student-athletes who are likely to be ELL will take another English test when they arrive at IMG Academy. The score of this test determines whether a student needs ELL, and if so, the level of support needed.

HOW LONG WILL MY CHILD BE IN ELL? WHAT'S THE PROCESS FOR ADVANCEMENT?

The length of time a student-athlete may spend in ELL depends on the level of English upon entry to IMG Academy in addition to the effort made to acquire enough English to ensure success in the academic program. There are 3 levels of ELL for high school and 4 levels for middle school student-athletes.

Advancement from one ELL level to the next is based on class performance and end-of-semester (standardized) testing. Although a few student-athletes may advance from one level of ELL to the next in one semester, most take a full year to do so.

WHAT SUPPORT WILL ELL OFFER MY CHILD?

Depending on the level of ELL, students receive special classes in reading, writing, grammar and vocabulary. Also, as their English improves, students will take some classes that are co-taught by ELL and content area teachers. The higher-level ELL classes and the co-taught classes are credit-bearing so that students can be accumulating credits for graduation even though they are in ELL.
